I had to be back in time for Assaf's second wedding, so it had to be a short ride (57.8km). After skipping two weeks, one because of Assaf's first wedding and one because of (imagined) work pressure, I needed it so much! It was wonderful. The plan was to ride to the Art Gallery of Mississauga, visit, and ride back. But I got to the gallery two hours before its opening time. So no visit, this time.
