Zeeland is rather far from Groningen, so I decided to make this trip a full weekend excursion.

On Friday evening I took the 4.5 hours train ride from Groningen to Middelburg and took a short walk in Middelburg.

On Saturday I did a loop ride (riding Bromp) to the southwest, including a visit to the western-most point of the Netherlands and including about 17 minutes in Belgium. 96.2km (plus 12.8km on two ferry rides), 12 windmills (due to some bug I lost the tracking data for the last 7km or so and had to reproduce the end of the route by hand).

On Sunday I rode to Rotterdam and then took the train to Groningen. 113km, 22 windmills (it's getting ridiculous), and a ride through parts of the famed Dutch Delta Works.

I have now cycled in all 12 Dutch provinces!
